TO THE READER

WE present thee with our Astrological Observations, composed for the Year 1662. as also with some few Animadversions upon those two so remarkable Prodigies (by many so accounted) which happened in England since the Emission of our Anglicus 1661. to the great terror and astonishment of the Inhabitants, in those parts where they appeared.

We may justly term an Earthquake happening in our Climate of England, and in the Midland part thereof, so far remote from the Sea, as is Leicester-shire, not in an Hilly, or Mountainous Country, but only Champain, or plain ground, to be a matter in it self very considerable.

Nor can we account the failing, or drying up of the River Darwent, near the Town of Derby, for some certain hours, to be less than a wonder, whether we consider the season of the Year, when it was dried up, the quickness of that stream which feeds the River, or the Nature of the Thing it self.

To the Reader.

Philosophers give natural reasons for Earth-quakes, but for the Exsiccation of Rivers, or sudden failing of waters in the winter season, and that but for a few hours, and then to return to their accustomed fullness and motion; the reason hereof, we conceive, neither hath been yet, or can be hereafter rendred to the just satisfaction of any rational man, but must remain as something in the nature of a Miracle, &c.

What the Antients have delivered upon such like unaccustomed Wonders, we will faithfully relate, and so far as with conveniency we may, we will render our own Conceptions hereof, as a Premonition unto those people whom Providence hath designed to be passive in such Casualties, Calamities, Chances, good or evil, signified from those so great, and not usual Accidents.

We have seen the writing of some who have abusively assigned such strange effects to succeed from hence, as we do well know they do not presignifie, those imprudent judgments being not warranted with the Authority or President of any Author who is considerable, purposely emitted these are, to amuse his Majesties Subjects, and to stir up the dormant Ashes of a future Rebellion: from which, good God deliver England.

A Generation of people they are, who as it seems are not contented with our more than eighteen years Civil Embroylments, nor are satisfied with his MAJESTIES gracious Remission of all former miscarriages, or thankfully accepting his MAJESTIES Reiterated, or Renewed Act of Indemnity, whereby as much as lay in his Power, he indeavoured to remove, even all reproachfull or obstructive Terms, Names or Deeds of former Divisions, and to reunite all his moderate Subjects (de novo) into a sweet Peace, Vnity and Tranquillity, one amongst another: but still we say, these men would renew old sores.

If such unthankfulness be the return of ill-disposed persons unto a Prince so gracious, and for such Mercies, as the whole Nation hath received; how can we then but expect, that God in his just Judgment, may, or will produce a Severity from his Ma-

To the Reader.

Majesty, not suitable to his natural inclination, whereby we may at great leisure repent us of our follies, but hardly ever recover his Majesties Grace or Favour again, or retrieve him unto his former good opinion of his Subjects and People.

We hope better things, and will afflict thee no longer, only with thy serious perusal of what follows.

1662. by WILLIAM LILLY.

A Jove Principium.

WE Intend not to make any large Repetition of such Astrological Judgements, as were delivered by us upon

on the several positions of Heaven in our last years Anglicus, which have with much exactness been since verified in the course of the year 1661. to the great comfort and satisfaction of our English Nation, or rather the three Nations of England, Scotland, and Ireland.

It may be remembered, how we intimated, That the general affairs of the Nobility, Gentry, and Clergy would succeed more happily in that year, than in many former years; that they should receive much content in the re-injoyning of their Patrimonies and Estates; that they should live more comfortably, &c. all which have proved very true: For we know the Nobility and Gentry do with much freedom enjoy those Estates, which for some years were detained with strong hand from them.

The Ecclesiastical Party are in that year restored unto their Dignities, and Church Estates, or Patrimonies of the Church; they now renew Leases, put in new Lives, receive Fines, possess their Houses (such as are not demolished) and questionless they live pleasantly, and its hoped in time, will keep good Hospitality, and anew repair their decayed, or quite ruined Mission Houses, and make a right use of their ancient Revenues, unto the Glory of God, and comfort of poor people, who live neer them, or depend upon them.

We also there delivered, that his Majesty King Charles, would equally distribute Justice, Govern his people by Reason, encourage good Actions, discourage ungodly Proceedings, that he would not prejudice his Subjects in any manner of way; Nay, that rather than he would do so, he would be wanting to himself, and not require his own Just Rights.

That he would deny himself, and his own Conveniences, by refusing what was proper and justly due unto himself, and Treasury, from his People; and that in those things wherein his proper Interest was concerned, he would rather deny, than accept his own proper Rights, Goods,

That

Astrological Predictions.

That he hath failed in any of these particulars, or hath not made good what was presignified he would do, let our worst enemies challenge us in the particulars thereof; for we affirm upon certain and assured knowledge,

That he hath faithfully performed these our Predictions, Writs,

That Learned and Elaborate Speech of the Speaker of the House of Commons, who in effect, with much Eloquence, Gravity and Zeal, acknowledgeth in his name of the whole House of Commons, as much as we have delivered.

Wherein we must not forget his Majesty's constant Zeal, and tender Care to have his Darling Act of Indemnity again confirmed by the present Parliament yet in being, which was convened legally by his own Writ, according to the Ancient Constitution, and Fundamental Laws of this Nation; thereby obliging all his Subjects, who have either Religion, Reason, or Honesty in them; if any there be who live under his Government, and are not capable either of Religion, Reason, or Honesty, we account them as lost sheep, and not capable of his MAJESTIES Protection, or Cognizance of them.

Its sufficient for verification of our Predictions, that his Majesty hath made himself known to the World, to be a King, as able and willing to perform, as promise any thing that is considerable for his Subjects good.

We also manifested in our Anglicus 1661. that during part of December, and those other three months of January, February and March,

Some unsorted Judgements in Religion, were secretly in a close Confederacy, or Combination, purposely to disturb his Majesties Affairs.

The strange and imprudent Rising in Arms of the Fifth-Monarchy men in the City of London, even unto a just astonishment of all who were Spectators of their Folly, makes good what we formerly delivered.

We also mentioned Earth-quakes, &c. viz. that there was likely to be some in those Countreys destined by Providence vidence for such a work; and there was really an Earth-quake in the County of Leicester, and parts adjacent, whereof we now intend to Treat.

The 24th. day of January, 1660. at half an hour past seven at night, there happened an Earth-quake in the North-East, North, and North-West parts of Leicester-shire, viz. in those parts of that County which do bound upon Rutland-shire, Nottingham-shire, and Derby-shire; of the certainty whereof, we have had several Letters, and also Conference with some Inhabitants of good Quality living in those Parts.

We intend also to acquaint the Reader what Things may from thence, and from the Exsiccation of the River Darwent near Derby, be signified. Several Authors are of divers opinions.

Thomas Aquinas upon the 17th. Psalm, will have God principally to be the Author of *Earth-quake*s; but naturally he saith, that one wind, forcibly impelling another wind into the Earth doth occasion them; and it may be very well so.

All Authors agree, that *Earth-quake*s do usually appear whilst the Sun is in Aries, or Libra, viz. either in the Spring, as in March or April, or else in the Autum, in September or October, and for the most part at the New, or Full Moon, and neer the morning, or Sun-rise, many times neer unto some memorable Eclipse, either preceding, or subsequent, very seldom do they appear in Winter; their continuance is more or less, according to the nature of the Climate, sometimes they continue forty daies, or more, or less, sometimes a few hours, prout Providence, and the capacity of matter may occasion it.

The Earth-quake which we mention at this present, happened in Leicester-shire, not in the Mountainous, or Woody part thereof (for indeed its very litle Hilly in any part) nor was it in high Grounds, neither did there any vapours rush forth from out of the Earth, nor was it upon the New, or Full Moon, but four daies after the Change, the Sun in the the 16. degree of Aquarius, and neer the North west parts thereof, in some of those Towns where it was manifest; The great River Trent, and the River Sore, are not distant one quarter, or half a mile, whereas usually Earth quakes do not happen where much water is: Indeed in the North-East parts of Leicester-shire, there are very few Rivers, but rather small Brooks or Rivulets.

It continued neer half an hour, or more, some say 1. h. so that it was longer perceived in some places than in other.

This Earth quake is the more considerable, or portentuous, as neither happening at the usual time of the day, or season of the year, or in a Country subject unto Earth-quakes.

Escuidus, pag. 155. de Terræ motu, &c. saith, That

Terræ motus præcipue fieri solent in terris Meridionalibus; in terris vero Septentrionalibus, & præcipue in fine septimi Clima-tis, & in Angliæ, & in Scotia & aliis regionibus multum propinquis Polo Boreali non ita frequenter accidunt, & ideo omnes terræ motus majorem habent significationem in terris Meridionalibus quam in Septentrionalibus.

Earth-quakes chiefly, or for the most part, are in the Southern parts of the World or Earth; but in the Northern parts, especially towards the end of the seventh Climate, and in England and Scotland, and other Kingdoms neer the North Pole, they do not so frequently happen; wherefore all Earth-quakes have stronger and greater signification in the Southern than Northern parts, so that notwithstanding the great expectation of some scrupulous Persons, and muttering Spirits, who hunger and thirst after a change in his Majesties Dominions, or some Disturbance, or Uproar, or Mutiny, and would make such like Prodigies to be the Proitomi thereof, we shall make it appear according to the best Authors, That neither his Majesties Person is herein concerned, or any more than common danger, or ordinary calamity threatened to the Kingdom;

Astrological Predictions.

Kingdom; which you shall hear, as Authors have delivered unto Posterity.

Earth-quakes say some are the Portentuous fore-runners of great winds, because that after them the winds are continually forcing themselves out of the Earth.

Tempestates, & manifestas temporum mutationes & diversas, Consequentia vero sunt, animalium infectiones, praesertim irrationalium, quae juxta tellurem sua capita portant, &c. Earth-quakes signifie Tempests, evident mutations of the Times, and those various; the Consequences thereupon ensuing, are the infection, especially of those irrational Creatures, which hang down their heads towards the Earth.

How generally the Times have been changed since January last, the whole Nation of ENGLAND is sensible, and that the sickness of the greater Cattel is not yet much lessened, we know; we desire of God there may be no more such mortalities amongst the brute Beasts.

It is unto us most probable, that this Earth-quake was the Presage or natural cause of those violent Flouds, and constant Inundations which happened in March and May last, of which we have indeavoured to give our self satisfaction in a natural Astrological manner, but could not: and it is to be feared, those moist vapours left behind upon the Earth, occasioned that so unwholsome air, whereby so many people during the Month of July, August, and September last past, suffered so extremely in sickness and Diseases, in such manner in many Country Towns neer London, and more remote, that few, or no Families either in Towns or Country Villages escaped, but had sometimes one sometimes more, sometimes all in a Family sick at one time: few people, if well ordered, died thereof; the man-kind for most part procured the disease by surfeits of cold, or lying on the ground, or drinking too much Beer at their Labours; it usually took them in their heads, in their stomachs, by vomiting, and after with a general heat over all their bodies, sometimes with extreme grying of their guts.

Astrological Predictions.

guts: those who first of all took Clusters, and after vomited, soonest recovered; Bloud-letting did rather kill than cure; some mens infirmities turned to Quartan Agues.

But again, some Authors have otherwise judged upon Effects, or Consequences of Earth-quakes, saying, —

Brevi futurum esse, ut Deus sumat supplicium de impiis qui magna audacia & contumacia ruunt in Seclera; for though it is confessed,

Terræ motus nullo modo causa est futuri mali; tamen suo quodam ordine prænuntius est magnarum Cladium.

That God will in a short time take revenge of the wicked, who with great boldness and contumacy, commit wickedness; for though an Earth-quake is not a cause any manner of way, of the future impending evil, yet its a messenger, or fore-runner of great Destruction at hand: There is no Author hath in our judgment handled this matter so effectually, and rationally, as Goclenius in pag. 363. Terræ motus sunt nuntii seditionum & tumultuum bellicorum; Earth-quakes are the messengers of Seditions and War like Tumules; — For syth the minds of men are easily affected from the temperancy, or intemperancy of the air, it can hardly be denied, but that the air is corrupted by such Mutations, as the Earth quake leaves behind it: for even as the shadow follows the body, so the motions of mens minds do follow after Earth-quakes: for it is certain, that fumes and venomous vapours purtified in the bowels of the Earth, do very much contaminate the air; by which Corn is destroyed, and mens bodies corrupted with the stench and ill savours of the Earth; Potendunt etiam inundationes, & particulares Cataclysmos, they also portend inundations, and great rains.

We shall conclude this discourse with the words of the Reverend Father Francis Resla: that generally Earth-quakes signifie a Pestilence, and Sterility, or want of Grain, &c. of which judgment we are,

Astrological Predictions.

Concerning the River Darwent, hear what came unto me from a sober hand, living neer the place.

Sir, as concerning the River Darwent, you may give credit to the report hereof, viz. that about the 20th. of November, 1660. was the time of that strange wonder, and that it lasted about four hours; a Woman that was washing neer the River, affirms that it fell above two foot in height plumb in half an hours time; the shallow fordable places were all so dry, that no water at all was discern'd to run, fishes were found upon the Sands, great numbers of people went out to see it.

The Miller that kept the Mills neer Derby, told his Master, there was no water, to turn the Mill about with, at which his Master was very wroth, but going to see, found it so, even to his astonishment, and to this day, no man can give any reason of the Thing, though many would gladly do it. — My 1661. — this came to my hands; a former Letter from the same Party, miscarrying about Christmas.

Grudentius will have the drying up of Rivers, Calamitatem futuram interpretare, viz. to signifie a future Calamity; accounts he failing thus of Rivers, Mali ominis esse, a sign of no good luck.

Ex arsis Resta saith, sequi solent inundationes, viz. great plenty of waters follows after the drying up, or sinking of the water of a River: Such like accidents as this, have formerly happened, as both Keckerman and Albertus affirm; Nay in ENGLAND, in the year 1399. the River Ouse neer Harwood in Bedford-shire, stood suddenly still, and refrained to pass on further, so that forward men passed three miles together on foot, in the very depth of the Channel, and backward the waters swelled to a great height: Speed in pag. 41. of the description of Bedford-shire.

If the Earth tremble, and afford not unto mankind, or unto the irrational Creatures, seasonable and nourishing Provi-

Provisions for his and their sustenance, but that unwholsome and poysonous vapours do corrupt the fruits of the Earth, or if the waters fail of their nutriment unto their Commonwealth of Fishes and Fowls living in them; what can we expect from the affliction of both these Elements, but that a Mortality may be feared, and people suffer by reason both of scarcity of Bread, Flesh and Fish? from which, good Lord deliver all his Majesties Dominions.

We now come to our Astrological judgment upon the Sun his ingress into  $\text{VP}$  for the months of December, January and February. The season of the year permits no military Action, nor indeed is there likelihood of any at hand, here is a signification rather of great Jollity, Entertainments, Feastings, and of some more than ordinary Matter or Counsell, concerning Transmarine affairs, wherein we do not exclude the West-Indias, or Ginny, by reason the immediate succeeding Lunation is in  $\text{VP}$  and the  $\text{D}$  transfers the Light or Vertue of Sol unto  $\text{Q}$  who by his Re. motion most willingly and speedily puts forward the Consultations of the present Times, yet with some avernes of Sci it in some, &c. as also disagreement amongst the Counsellors themselves; yet doubtless the Opposition of  $\odot$  and  $\odot$  not many daies after the Ingress happening in Tropicke signs, occasions many flying Rumors, and various News, as if there lately had been, or suddenly would be some harm or Shipwrack at Sea, or some little Bickerings, or Fights at Sea, or that the Sea Banks were in danger of overflowing by Time furious Cataracts of water, greatly to the prejudice of those Countreys wherein they do make irruption.

Saturn we constitute Ruler of the Suns Ingress and Lunation Postventional, from hence much labour unto mankind in his rural employments, the Consults of present times carried on generally in all parts with much tergiversation and difficulties, many things immaturely propounded, few materially concluded, high Animosities amongst the Nobility and Gentry of several Nations, deadly Feuds betwixt Family and Family, especially North-ward, and North-East,

Astrological Predictions.

East, much more mischief would succeed, if Sol and Jupiter were not in a * Aspect, which intimates that the wisdom and fore-sight of some Grave Counsellor, or Councils, will qualifie the distempered passions of many violent spirited persons, that othervile vvould be unruly, and put matters vvell begun, into Disorder: Si Mars sit in signo aquatilis, veniet damnum a Septentrionis parte vel ab aquis, — but because Sol is in ♊ at time of his ♄ vvith ♄ vve may inform our judgement that ♊ signifieth the West-Indies, Brasil, Ginny, and other hot parts of Affrick; the sign ♄ presents Holland and Scotland, Argiv, Tunis, — these and some other peoples Negoriations, Trafficks and Actions, Ericocasio in Juvenibus; Some distempered Spirits of such like Nations, perhaps may give occasion of disgust unto the English in their Sea affairs, and some broken heads, &c.

We may adjudge the superior Planet ♄ to be Almuten of the Figure, he newly entered into the Royal and Kingly sign of ♄ making haste into that sign by his direct motion; There are now, if ever, superlative Counsels in hand, sublime Actions in serious debates (de minimis nunquam judicat Saturnus) he is now in the house of ♋, — of Kingdoms, Laws, Privileges, Customs, Leagues, Alliances, matters of Antiquity, Lands, Leases, Tenant-rights things acted long since: All, or many of these before mentioned Things, seem to lye under consideration amongst pruden- tial men in several parts of the World, during the three Winter months following Sol his entrance into ♋. And this may very well be, for its related by the Reverend Predecessors of this Art; Cum ♄ in revolutione fuerit in ♄ et in prima; significat maiorem multorum hominum causa debiti, vel causa terrarum; viz. many men shall be much afflicted, or much suffer by reason of their debts, because their Lands are either mortgaged, or that they must sell Lands to pay their debts, this must be understood of such as have Lands; it may be handsomely disputed, whether its intended by this Aphorism, that the Party in debt, or he unto whom this debt is owing, is most concerned in this

Astrological Predictions.

Astrological Judgment; or which of these two shall be most sorrowfull for his sad condition; viz. either the Lender, or the Borrower: If we conclude Astrologically, he that lends, or hath debts owing, is in the worst condition; for  $\text{H}$  afflicts the Ascendent which makes him sorrowfull, in regard  $\text{V}$  who is Creditor, is in  $\text{V}$  applying to  $\text{O}$  of  $\odot$  in his 2. house, having therein no dignity, from hence there appears either no estate, or no possibility of payment, except great time be given; for who pays money, and hath it not, forfeits his fingers; all this signifies no more, but that the great debts of many persons will hardly, or ever without great difficulty be paid. But in what City or Country these casualties shall happen, Dicat Apollo, for the words are generally so intended by us.

And as unto the season of the year, or temper of the weather, Si Saturnus fuerit in Sagittario,-- ejusq; Latitudo Septentrionalis significat multitudinem aquarum fortium & frigus hyemis: If Saturn be in Sagittarius, and his Latitude North (as now it is) he signifies great plenty of floods, snows or water, and a very cold Winter; these Aphorisms are the more probable, because  $\text{H}$  is in the Ascendent, and hath absolute Dominion in the succeeding Lunation.

But we hasten unto other concernments, Siquidem  $\text{V}$  fuerit in duodecima, significat impedimenta quæ occurrent, ex parte servitutum, paupertatum atq; indigentium, & gravitatem quæ occurret ex parte servorum, & ex eorum occasione, & etiam ex parte servitutis in quam cadunt homines, & tristabuntur homines ex accidentibus quæ veniunt eis ex occasione quadrupedum, & maxime magnorum animalium ut sunt Equi, Boves, & similia: Several persons will receive impediments in their affairs, by occasion of their restraint of Liberties, or of their Vassalage or Bondage, many will come to great wants and poverty, great hardship, by means of untrusty servants, their negligence and slothfulness, men shall fall into a kind of slavery unexpectedly, and for that cause be sorely grieved, the Country-man will also be very sad upon casual misfortunes happening unto him, and unto his flocks of four-footed beasts, especially Horses, Oxen, and such like of the kinds of the greater Cattel, as also of Sheep.

And verily, this Arabian Aphorism seems to be confirm'd the rather, because Mars is Lord of the 12th. in our figure, and is Retrograde in the 8th. and in ♄, which signifieth the breast, and lower part of the stomach, as unto the parts of the Creatures: the cause of the distempered maladies in the greater Cattel, coming, or being occasioned from ill feeding, either in the preceding Autumn, or for that the Fodder or Hay wherewith they are sustained, was unwholesome, by reason of those superlative rains, or abundant moysture, which fell upon the Pastures and Meadows in the Months of March, April and May, 1661. we shall observe in our Astrological Judgment upon the 3. other parts of the year, whether there be a concurrence of this last Judgment with them; for in regard Mars is Lord of the 12th. house, at the ingress of ☉ into ♍, and in the postventional Luration, we do much fear the Detriment we mention to happen unto great Cattel will be confirm'd.

It is said, -- Mars in Cancro, significat naufragia repentine venientia ex forti, & subito flatu ventorum, rixam atq; contentionem & bellum, partibus occidentis, & gravabuntur homines causa redditus tributorum, & erunt febres, & alia agilitudines: & erunt dolores gutturis, & pectoris, eritq; annus periculosus, significatq; mortem quadrupedum sed equorum magis; -- sollicitudinem & curam vulgi, seu rusticorum ac popularium, circa propria negotia: Mars being now Re. significat lasciviam & quod delectabuntur homines & studebunt in cultu venerio & fornicabuntur & similia; viz. In this Winter quarter, or during the effects of the position of the Erratics in that position of Sol his ingress into ♍, there may be feared many ship-wracks suddenly and unexpectedly surprising the Sea-man by some desperate or sudden gusts of wind, Controversies, Contentions, Quarrellings, Snarlings in several parts of the Indias, we mean both Indias, East and West, and the Southern and South-west Seas; --

People

Astrological Predictions.

People will be grieved in regard of Impositions or Tributes, or Taxes laid on their Estates; there will be several kinds of Feavers and Sickneses; People will be molested with sore throats, and heavy griefs lodging in their stomacks (Anglice, with surfeits either of heat and cold, or by drinking too much) it will be somewhat a dangerous year, it prenotes the death of four-footed beasts, especially of Horses and Mares: The Common, or Country man will be sollicitous and carefull how to manage his own business, and carry on his business with care and reputation, those of an higher Orb, are denoted to follow vvantroups, to mind their pleasures and pastimes, to court the Ladies, and to be free hearted unto them, if the Ladies please.

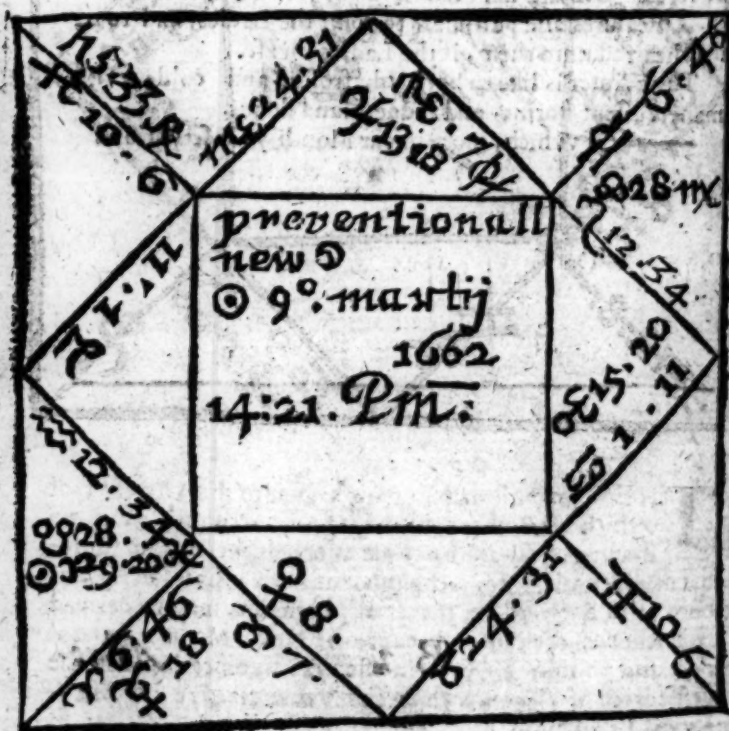

The Winter is like to be hard, frosty and cold, with many violent storms, and sudden land floods.

Astrological Predictions.

THE "preventionall Lunation before the Ingress ( of vvhich all Authors make so great account ) vvill no doubt give us at this time much light in our subsequent discourse ; for although it is not a visible Eclips, as unto us in England, yet material Judgments may be derived from thence, the rather, because the Nevv Moon is in 29.
deg. and 20. min. of ♄, or in effect, its signification is in the first degree of ♀, from vvhich sign vve must give our Astrological Predictions.

Astrological Predictions.

Horoscopus vel Planeta, dum invenitur in 30. gradu signi significatio ejus est in signo sequenti, si vero in 29. erit in signo. — Hermes, Aphor. 50.

Whilst a Planet, or the Horoscope is found in the 30th. degree of a sign, his signification is in the subsequent sign, but if a Planet be in the 29th. degree of a sign, his vertue shall continue in that sign.

The three superior Planets are Lords of the Angles of the Figure, and Mars disposeth the Lunation: Aries is the Ascendent of England, and many other Kingdoms, Citys and Countrys, besides, Efficacissimi sunt Planetae superiores: The superior Planets are most powerfull in Operation; wherefore from hence we may expect matters of highest concernment to be contrived in their due time, the qualities whereof we shall handle occasionally; in which discovery, Sagaxer per similitudinem & analogiam oportet indagare actiones & significationes corporum Caeli fixa: we must wisely by Similitude and Analogy make scrutiny, or search after the Actions and Significations of Celestial bodies. —

The Planet Saturn is in the Asterism of the Scorpion.

♄ Is in the Asterism of the Balance.

♃ Is in the last part of the Asterism of the Twins.

The Lunation it self is in the middle part of the Asterism of the Fishes. — There being only three hours, and 21. min. of time between the Lunation preceding, and the Sun his Ingress, we shall intermix our Judgment from both their Positions, as opportunity shall be offered.

We find ♄ very neer Cor Scorpii, of the nature of ♀ and ♄, ♄ neer Lucida Laucis, of the nature of ♀ and ♃.

♃ Not far from the violent fixed Star Hercules, as also the I. Her dog Star, Hercules is of the nature of ♀, Canis minor of ♀ and ♃, Efficacissima omnium in agendo sunt stella fixa, quia ea quae causant, ingenia sunt.

The fixed Stars above all others, are most powerfull in their influences, because those Actions good or evil, of which they are Significators, are great, high and renowned.

In

Astrological Predictions.

In consideration of the many Prodigies which were manifest in England, and some other Countreys adjacent, 1661. we are the more considerate in examination of the strength both of the Superiours in each Figure, and the Angles of the Schemes themselves, that if possible, we may render a true account what both the Prodigies and Ingresses altogether may prenote: — But of the Prodigies we have said something already.

In both our Figures we find Saturn and Jupiter Retrograde.

Retrograde Planets do degenerate from their proper natures; for if a Planet be naturally a Fortune, yet when Retrograde, then he becomes an Infortune by accident; and the reason is given, because then he is assimilated to a penitent man, or one not well at ease. —

Assuredly, in this year 1662. some more than ordinary Actions are in agitation, as either the establishment of Kingdoms, Citys, Countrys, Privileges, new Leagues, Friendship betwixt Princes and Common-wealths, in a more strict chain of Amity than formerly, or else an utter extirpation of former Leagues, and conclusions of New: for it appears, or may be suspected, that things and Matters of some long continuance, either thought to be forgotten, or out of date, are now very likely to be brought into remembrance, and to receive a Sentence or Judgment, as they shall for the future remain: We are now in the Wane, or very last quarter, (as we may say) of receiving the influence of the last fatal Conjunction of the two Superiours, Saturn and Jupiter; and where as then their Convention was in a watery sign, now it will be in a Fiery and Regal.

In the preventional Lunation we find h in the 11th. and therein he signifieth.

Merorem ac tristitiam ab amicis & causa amicorum, & profectus paucitatem in his quae speravit, & in quibus habuit fiduciam ex bono, & involutionem in rebus ac duritiam earum,

Astrological Predictions.

& multitudinem fiducia in rebus falsis, quæ nihil proficiunt, viz. Mankind in this year shall receive much affliction and sadness, by reason of their confidence in friends, nor shall they obtain what possibly they might have expected, very little good or profit is signified in their friendship, there will be great breach of trust betwixt friends and friends, men shall involve themselves and friends in many difficult Matters or Actions, yea, in such wherein they had strong confidence, or a multitude of trust, and yet that great confidence shall come to nothing; or bring any assistance or emolument unto their friends: An argument this is drawn from the accidental position of Saturn in the 11th. who is more naturally prone unto ill than good; and as the former Aphorism holds good in the generality of mankind, so more particularly it may be applyed unto Persons of highest Rank in Europe, as unto their Confederacies, intimating the little supply one Confederate will assist another with, or an unwillingness of one State, Kingdom or Commonwealth, to intermeddle in the affairs of another, it imports much Division in the Families of great Persons, both Emperors, Kings, Princes; so also in the lesser Commonwealths, of Cities, Towns, Counties, Corporations, Parishes, &c.

And whereas we find Saturn Retrograde in the Vernal Figure, and then posited in the 8th. house though he is in the sign of the 9th.

Herein he signifieth.

Litigia causa petitionum hereditatum, seu reliquiarum, & mortuorum, & causa petitionum rerum antiquarum, & contristationem causa mortis, & significat res, quarum dolor & angustia seu tristitia diu durabit, viz. Controversies, or Discontentments, or Strifes occasioned unto some by delivery of Petitions for Inheritances, or the remainder of dead mens Estates, or of matters that have been sleeping, or forgot a long time, many sad lamentations by deaths, viz. by death of Friends, Neighbours and Acquaintance, &c. It is the fore-runner of such a sorrow, as will abide, or give vexation a long time after; and verily, if we shall deal candidly, such Petitioners in all Nations as are here signified, will not receive any comfort, except Jove himself who disposeth of Saturn, do assist these poor Souls: Jove is in the 10th house, in the preventional Figure, and is Lord of the 10th, at the Ingress succeeding. The 10th house signifies Emperors, Kings and Princes, or Supreme Magistrates in every and all the habitable parts of the World, or in any Government, or Common-wealth whatsoever. But syth  $\Psi$  is posited in the 10th, and hath much of signification in both Scheams, we deliver what the Antients have recorded.

Si Jupiter in decima fortunatus fuerit, erunt Justitie communiter in omnibus hominibus illius Climatis, & habebunt honorem & mercedem, & pietatem a suis regibus & Dominis, & lucrabuntur cum ipsis, ac eis facient utilitatem.

When Jupiter is fortunate in the 10th house Justice shall be distributed equally, or commonly unto all the people of that Land, he will reward the Deserving, and give, or do them Honor, both King and People will thrive, and their Sovereigns will rejoyce to advance their Subjects Estates, and do what in them lyes, that they may thrive; this is the Condition, and these the Acts, we in England may expect from an indulgent King, if we molest him not with Sedition, or occasion not his mercy to be converted into anger by repining at his Government; which if we do, then you shall understand what may be expected; viz. if we displease him.

Separabunt se Reges & Domini a populo, ita quod non facient eis neq; bonum neq; malum; & erit inter homines, pax & vixta, scilicet de utroq; & erunt cogitationes regis in dando dignitates uni & auferendo alteri, &c.

Kings and Rulers will alienate their affections from their Subjects or People, will little care what becomes of them, viz. whether they do well or ill, there will be amongst men distributed both Right and Wrong, viz. on both sides, their Kings will have thoughts to reward some with Dignities, and to take away from others. We

Astrological Predictions.

We cannot find the English will be so undurifull unto his Majesty, who hath so well merited generally of all the Nation; we hope the Nation will never forget the madness of those belotted Fift Monarchy men, whose insolence had it been seconded with any other Sect, might have made the Nation miserable, and have occasioned his Majesty to mistrust his own safety amongst, or in the hands of his own Subjects, who were so highly obliged unto him for his unparallel'd Act of Indempnity, and of whom he hath so well merited.

In the Vernal figure we do seecept Jupiter as posited, and entring into the 7th house, wherein he signifieth;

Homines discordabunt & disconvenient, & inter se rixabuntur, & erunt cogitationes Regis in suis inimicis, & in invidentibus, & in suo dominio & Regno.

Men will differ among themselves, wrangle and jangle; the King will have care to look after his Enemies, and have an eye over those of his own Kingdom who envy his Government, or are not pleased with his Rule over them.

From hence we judge, the unruly passions of mankind may give occasion of fear, but will not be able to act any material Thing, to put his Majesty, or the Kingdom, to much, or indeed any trouble at all, for Jupiter and Mars are in Trine Aspect, as if providence, or a divine fore-sight of such like casualtie, did, or would prevent any ensuing Disaster.

True it is, that many false and dangerous reports will be given out by disloyal persons to amuse the Commonalty, or to asperse the Supreme Authority, and to spread a general fear, as if some more than ordinary pressures were indeavouring against the people, and what tribulations they are like to suffer: And this we judge from Cauda in the Ascendant.

But forasmuch as Mars vvhoe ruleth the Defective place of the Moon in the preventional Figure, and likewise in the Suns Ingress; and because he is in trine Aspect unto Jupiter,
The

Astrological Predictions.

The prudential care of the Civil Magistrate in every County City or COUNTRY, will disperse those calumniating, or aspersive reports, and reduce the people generally to a better understanding of themselves and duties.

Yet notwithstanding, there will not want active Emissaries to indeavour the contrary.

For considering both the Sun, Moon, and Mercury are posited in the Ascendent, and that Mercury is in ☐ with Mars in Cardinal Signs, the vixty indeavours of active men will not be wanting to countenance disaffected persons by lying Pamphlets, &c.

For in this way of Judicature, we ought to understand, Simplices Planetarum naturas, quoniam ex eis cognoscas omnes illorum mixtas significaciones; —

And therefore we say, as ♄ is in ☐ unto ☿, and doth naturally signifie, Ingeniū, Wit, understanding, &c. so accidentally now, he denotes the fancies of men troubled, and some violent mens understandings unferled, aptated, or fitted for some Paper-quarrel to perform disservice unto that Authority, under which they live and have Protection.

For Memorable aliquā significant plures Planeta conjuncti in eodem signo.

Some memorable accident is signified when many Planets are joyn'd together in one sign: what is signified in this posture, is only some distempered Judgments, neither willingly obeying Authority, or having judgment or discretion how to be commanded, in plain terms, neither knowing how to obey, or command, are studying mischief, as some sneaking Plots: — But vulgar capacitys seldom attain any higher pitch of wisdom than by their folly to bring themselves, and misguided Counsels unto confusion.

In the next place we consider the Planet Mars his present position, in the preveñional Luration, we do find him sole Dispositor and Angular in the 7th. house, in which place he is,

Astrological Predictions.

diaz magnas, & accident hominibus furta, interfectiones ac contentiones multe & rixæ in illo Anno, hæcque maxime accident in gente illius climatis, accidentia scilicet mala, rixæ ac discordia similiter; viz, Mars in the 7th. house in a Revolution, is ill and mischievous, signifying many Contentions, and those very great, there will happen unto men much stealing or robbing, much blood shed, and these like accidents are to happen unto the people signified to live under that sign wherein Mars is posited,

If we consider well, that the Planet Mars was wholly Lord of that Solar Eclipse in March 1661. — and that the influence of that Solar Defect is not yet determined, we may well fear there may be some remaining Animosities and Provocations amongst Nations and People, relating unto War or Contentions; — Or there will be great desires in people of War; but it is rather to be judged a Sea War than a Land War, or a War under-hand maintained rather by prudence and connivence than openly; or Bellum cum ingenuis & sollicitudinibus, which we most fear. —

But lyth the Stars do not compell, but only incline, we do hope, though several fears or rumors may be of War, or that many people may be desirous of such a thing, yet the prudence of a Wise King, and foresight of a grave Counsell, will or may prevent any such like chance unto the English, however.

Si bella significantur, notabis Angulum figuræ ubi reperitur Mars, nam ab ea parte venient hostes. —

If Wars or Controversies are signified in a Revolution, or in, or from an Eclipse, note the Angle of the Figure, where you find the Planet Mars, from that Part or Quarter, or from that Nation or People signified by the sign wherein Mars is placed, shall the occasion of the War, or Controversie arise.

We find Mars in Cancer, and that it is afflicted by ☿ his being in it, and know that Algier, Tunis, Amsterdam, Scotland, Holland, Zealand, St. Lucas, Cadix, Venice, Constantinople and Genoa, are subject unto the watery sign Cancer:

Let

Astrological Predictions

Let those who are concerned in State affairs, pick out the English, and the place, and let us boldly affirm, as unto Sea affairs, that his Majesty of Great Britain, his Fleets at Sea, or Naval Forces are Astrologically promised Success and Victory: For the ben-volent Planet Jupiter is in  $\Delta$  unto  $\odot$ , culminating in the Preventional Lunation, Angular in the Ingress.

Vincet populi vel Nationes cujus Planeta elevabitur super reliquos in magno principio, aspice cui parti  $\odot$  videatur Auxiliari, auxiliabitur enim illi parti, cujus Significatore amicabilem se habuerit & quem magis Aspexerit.

Those people or Nations whose Significator shall be elevated above the rest of the Planets in any great Beginning, or First Foundation of any Kingdom or Principality, these shall overcome: Behold also what Party, or whose Significator Mars shall with any amicable Aspect apply unto, or behold, be assured he gives Victory unto that or those people with whose Significator he is in most friendly Aspect.

However Cavendum a Mercurio, viz. Treachery in, or of some Scribes, in discovering Things or Acts not to be revealed.

Now in regard Mars is in the Occidental Quarter, these Differences or Controversies, will not suddenly break forth, for,

Effectus Planetae Occidentalis tardè solet apparere, Although the influence or effects of an Occidental Planet doh appear more slowly, yet very likely about the latter end of April, or in the Month of May, some appearance may be, but of what concernment, and from whom, or with what people the Contest or Controversie may be, or at what time it is probable the Transit of sol in the 15. deg. of Cancer will manifest

We with all Controversies may be ended in Treaties, or Paper-quarrels, rather than in the spilling of humane blood.

Undoubtedly, from some of those Cities, Towns or Coun-troys before specified, viz. the Turkish Pyrats, or others as bad, or worse than Turks; &c. and upon those Coasts or neer the Straights much Action will be, wherein his Majesty of Great Brittain, or his Subjects Ships are like to be concerned in some Naval Conflict for honour of his Majesty, Themselves, and English Nation.

But let us come neerer home, if possible it may be, for all is not Gold that glisters. —

VIZ.

We have Cauda Draconis in the Ascendant, and Bonatus saith pag. 594.

Cum fuerit Cauda in prima, significat detrimentum hominum, & separationem boni, & pericula & tribulationes, & si remanserit filius dives post obitum Patris, depauperabitur; & si remanserit pauper, perdeturabit in ea. —

This Judgment hath relation unto severall of the Commonalty, who if they shall offend, or rise in Arms against his Majesty, they may then expect;

That they will sustain great damage, and loss of Estate, if they were the sons of rich men, they will bring their Estates unto beggery after the death of their Fathers, if they were poor before, then they shall so continue.

A timely warning it is, of adjoyning either in Counsel, or Action with the Male-contented people of Nations where animosities are.

Albumasar delivereth, that if Cauda Draconis be in Pisces in the Revolution of a year.

That Kings or Rulers will increase the number of their Souldiers, that many great Persons, or a multitude of them will be inforced to remove from their habitations (causa peccatorum) Anglice, for want of moneys, or for some enormous offences, that there will be much Communication much speech or discourse of Sects, or an appearance of some Novel matter either in State or Church.

Be it as it may be, the vulgar or common man signified by Venus, though he is like to thrive generally in this year with much labour, and many difficulties, yet will he have many payments and losses, and some of these urgent and great, or great damage in some kind, as is signified both by Saturn Lord of his second in the Preventional New Moon, as also from Venus Lady of the second in the Revolution in ♀ with Jupiter: — But though he may be liberal of his purse unto his Majesties just occasions, and so might have cause to repine and grumble; yet when the vulgar man shall find this true which is promised from the same Aspects; viz. he may the better be contented.

Oppositio ♀ & ♀ significat,

Quod mulieres multa placita ratione legis habebunt, & ostendent & demonstrabunt hac; quia reducentur ad bonum statum cum maritis. Haly, 393. — Viz.

Women shall have many Law-sutes, the times will demonstrate so much; but in the end, they shall be reduced unto an handsome accord with their Husbands.

The Aphorism hath only this signification, that whereas many women, either with, or without cause, do molest their Husbands with Sutes of Law, either for Alimony, or other causes, Haly the Astrologer gives good hopes, that e'r the end of this year, all such Animosities, by the prudence of wise Judges in Authority, will be concluded, or Peace will be made betwixt their Husbands and them; this is the sense of his words.

But the before mentioned Aphorism denotes some prejudice in the Clothing Trade of this Nation, if not prudentially by the discreet Magistrate prevented.

The sicknesses of this year 1662. whether we take them from Mercury in the preventional Lunation, or from the Sun at the Ingress, or from the Figure of the Sun his Ingress into Cancer; they are signified to be putrid rotten Feavers, of near relation to the Plague, Pestilential, Pestiferous and mortal mortal, depriving mankind of his senses with the violence of pain, women strangely afflicted with fits of the Mother, with Convulsion fits, with Palpitation of the heart, Strangling, Suffocation of the Matrix; the small Pox, Deafness, Surfeits, the Pest of France, Ruptures, spitting of Blood, Imposthumes in the head, in the breast, in the stomach; strange and unusual Consumptions of the Lungs, with many other Diseases, some known, some not known.

Wheat signified by Jupiter, is generally signified to be either smutted or mill-dew'd, nor is there probability of any plentiful Crops, especially in grounds that lye low, and are subject to Land floods: Indeed most sorts of Grain do rather seem to yield mankind in this year a moderate than plentiful Crop; and to speak our Judgment directly, we do rather or more fully believe there will be a scarcity than otherwise. For that the greatest effects that ever we read of which have happened after Earth quakes, or many such like Terrestrial Prodigies have happened in mortalities of Cattel, and scarcity of Grain, but when the air is visited with such strange sights or apparitions, as of Horsemen fighting, shooting of Guns, strange Hyatus, &c. then usually War is denounced, &c. as was here in England 1644. 2. or 3. days before that fatal battel of Marston More in York-shire.

Let us with patience expect the third  $\odot$  of Saturn and Jupiter in the fiery Triplicity, the effects whereof will give a period unto many differences now controverted in Europe, whereof we do not but many Learned Persons will give unto the World a sufficient account of their great abilities in Astrologic, but syth the Conjunction it self is not untill Octob. 1663. the Cognizance thereof is no ways fit to be taken notice of untill the year ensuing: For the present we will conclude our discourse with those pious observations of the Learned Barardus upon Earth quakes.

Terra motus sunt signa data hominibus a Deo, ut convertantur a via sua mala, & a pessimis cogitationibus suis, ut fugiant a facie arcus, & non sicut veluti aliteri Pharaon, qui quatuor plura videbat signa, tanto magis corde indurabatur; unde clamare quotidie debemus, & ei dicere, A cecitate cordis libera nos Domine; & ab ira tua salva nos Deus piissime.

Nam terra motam esse ira Dei nuntium, & eo magis quanto libertas ejus Ecclesia leditur, tradit Maiolus Colloq. 1. multis exemplis.

Earth-quakes, and such like Prodiges, are Signs given unto man from God, that they may be converted from their evil way, and may flye from the face of his Bow or anger, and that we be not like another Pharaoh, who the more miracles or signs he beheld, the more his heart was hardened; and therefore we ought daily to cry unto God, and say,

From the blindness of heart, Good Lord deliver us.

And most Holy God, preserve us from thine anger; for doubtless an Earth-quake is as the Messenger of the anger or wrath of God, and the rather when the Liberty of his Church receives prejudice. Thus saith Maiolus in Colloq. 1. and produceth many such Examples.

A JOVE PRINCIPIUM.

The times seem full of jollity, & the conceptions of many heightened with expectation of some gracious Act or Acts from their Superior, or Superiors. —

From the Straights and Levant Seas, much intelligence arrives, pleasing, and not pleasant; pleasing, because divers particular persons have lately had opportunities of advancing their Fortunes: Not at all pleasant unto others is the News which comes neer the middle of this Month, from those former Places, or Coasts, or North-ward, for intelligence is dispersed, as if many persons had suffered by Storm, Fight, Famine, Diteases, irruption of Sea-banks, or Shipwrack; high Divisions in Councils, or debates; nor doth there want scandalous, or injurious Libels, Writings, Books or Plots to introduce some unnatural Sedition or Conspiracies amongst the Naval Forces of Kingdoms and Common-wealths. The Magistracy of Nations in great care how to prevent some impending storms seemingly approaching: Private differences, or animosities amongst the Religious of all manner of Judgments, and a general dissatisfaction appears much to be feared, if a Gracious KING did not by divine providence interpose his sober and opportune Judgment, of prudential Conceptions, whereby thousands are satisfied, and a more serene or calm season is, and may be expected. — More comfortable News arrives towards the Months end, and mens fancies more satisfied, as also a reconciling of some former Debates, or Disputes. —

Februaries Observations.

MAny wise Senators in several parts of the World, especially in Venice and Turkey, much perplexed with the sad successes have lately befallen unto their People, or Armies, both by Land and Sea: they appear serious in their Consultations how to distress their Enemies, how to assist their own Forces, how to procure aid from their Friends, who seem slack in their assistances. The English seem active in many parts of the World, especially at Sea, in the East and West-Indias, or in all other Navigable parts of the World, at which some envious people begin to grumble; for about the middle of the Month, he is a probability, as if his Majesty were complained unto, or molested with some petty complaints and grievances made worse than they are, against some of his most valiant Sea-men, &c.

But he is Pater Patriæ.

Towards the Months end, his Majesty is highly courted from several parts of Europe, and many deliberate Councils draw near unto conclusion, or a more perfect settlement of many controverted difficulties, greatly pleasing unto the Nation in general. Diversities of Judgment in religious affairs in a quiet and calm posture, with great hopes, though not of a perfect unity, yet of a moderate contentedness in most dissenting opinions.

Portugal, England, Scotland, Venice, Constantinople, the Spanish and French Monarchs, Hollanders, most concerned in this Months Actions and Councils.

Marches. Observations.

ALL the Potentates of Europe involved in serious and grand Consultations, and the most prudent men of all Nations employed how to manage the succeeding Negotiations of this impending Spring and Summer. No particular Country or Kingdom more in counsel, than England, France, Holland, and some Eastern Kingdoms or Courteys. The Spanish Monarchy appears in some disturbance, or dissatisfied with the several relations dispersed against its Greatness: Yet there seems some application from thence unto our King, or an unwillingness to break Alliance with him.

A full Discovery is now made, of Counells brought to light of several dormant practices against England, especially concerning Sea affairs; & some Nations make haste to put their numerous Fleets to Sea.

Strange rumours are dispersed concerning Ireland and its affairs, as if Things or Matters were doubtfull, we hope better things, and cannot perceive otherwise, but that the wary Governour, or Governours of that Kingdom preserve all his Majesties Subjects therein peace and quietness. A repining people with it otherwise, and those would be called Religious, &c.

Exant dolores oculorum & capitis cum vehementia frigoris, people will be afflicted with much weakness in their eyes, and pain in their heads, by reason of the vehemency of cold weather in the Winter preceding; Some Country-men also, Multum indigebunt bestiis, viz. the rural man will much suffer for want of great Beasts to go forward with his Tillage now at hand.

APRILS Observations, 1661.

EVEN again in this Month Jove and Venus both Retrograde do meet in opposition: Authority is amused, the Church or Church-men molested, the Nobility of Nations waver in their Opinions, things divine seem not fully settled or composed: For immediately after we fear much Discord and high Provocations; the judgments of men unsettled and various; prodigious Rumors dispersed, all tending to make a breach of fidelity amongst some dissatisfied people. Endeavours are not wanting of malicious persons to make Ireland or Scotland, or both, sensible of some new troubles, if possible it could be effected: But in vain do men curse where God doth bless.—Here is probability of the death, sickness, or downfall of a person of Quality, be He or She a Male or Female, an active spirited Creature. Assuredly in or near this month, it may be feared, there may be some breach of Leagues betwixt Nation and Nation: For a likelihood here is of raising or sending Forces abroad, and very sober preparations signified to be now made both for Land and Sea, but where providence will fix the storm, time will manifest either about the middle of August or beginning of September, or sooner, by the death of several persons.—Very many complaints or grievances are presented by several persons unto the Authority of Nations, who seem even wearied with care and vigilancy,—We fear much the Pyracies of the Argier, Tripoli, and Sally Turks: they appear numerous, and the Hollander is much threatened, and were it not so early in the year one might justly suspect some Sea-fight near the Turkish Coasts; and nearer home some strange Sickness or Plague. MAYES Observations. 1662.

Several Princes and States of Europe disturbed by the dissensions of froward Subjects: Much difference appears amongst the Learned or Religious of Nations, and the Souldiery or Nobility, or persons otherwise invested in great Commands, now in some perplexity how to order their affairs. The temper of mankind excited unto some rash action, by reason of excess of choler now or near those times dispersed into their several veins: as also apt to be feverish. The English Nation extream serious in their Councils, and we hope greatly to the advantage of his Majesty and three Kingdomes. Heavens defend the great City of London and all her Citizens and Inhabitants, from sickness, from seditions, from vain fears, from losses and crosses, from fires, or any other calamity, not only in this and other succeeding moneths, but for ever, & in sempiternum: However some unnatural Subjects near this time print and disperse their unwarranted Opinions, purpose y to set forward some secret design against the Fathers of the Church, or against the received Orthodox judgement of the English Church and Government. But these matters must be either pretermitted or passed over with an easie Pen: Italy, Spain, England, Portugal, Sweden concerned.—The season of the year considered, the weather of this moneth answers not fully the Countrey-mans expectation, but here is more appearance of cold and dry East winds, unwholsome frosts, and sudden hail-storms, than any abundance of waters, as in May 1661.

Vivat Carolus Misericors. —

JUNES Observations. 1662.

Malicious Saturn is by Retrograde motion leaving one Sign, and entering another, carrying mischief from one people unto another: A season very uncertain as unto the weather, as dubious in humane Consultation; yea and Actions or Bodies, Spain and France, or both, in fear of an impending Rupture, or endeavours in many busie heads to kindle some quarrels, or stir up some Divisions amongst those warlike people. — If we have no Plague or Pestilential disease in or near the City or Suburbs, in this or before this Moneth, then its hoped all will be well this year, or until the Sun enters the Sign of Libra; and yet the Ingress of the Sun into the Tropical Sign Cancer gives us great fear of pestilential Feavers, of Surfeits, griping in the Gutts, long and enduring Agues, Dropsies and Hypochondriack diseases not easily curable, passions of the heart, faintings, and such like diseases as have their original from choler and melancholy: some would say, the Plague. — Notwithstanding various rumors, we hope our gracious Sovereign shall hear comfortable News from Ireland, from his people and Subjects in the Southern parts of the world: viz. Brafile, Barbadoes, the Western Plantations, Guiney, or other Southern and South-west Navigations. — Ireland, France, Spain, the entrance into the Straights, and parts of Italy much concerned this moneth: wherein it may be doubted some more then ordinary Sea-fight may be, in which fights if the prudent State of Venice be concerned, we hope Providence will give them a signal victory over their enemies the Turks: — And its possible his Majesties Sea-Forces may also fight with Turkish people, and beat them, if peace is not concluded ere this time.

JULIES Observations, 1662.

AT the Ingress of the Sun into Cancer, we find Saturn & Mars in quadrat aspect: From hence the Ancients say, that there is signified near this time some pestilential diseases to afflict the younger men & multiplicabuntur in senibus aggritudines; viz. that ancient people also will be much afflicted with many kinds of diseases; as Consumptions, Coughs, Agues, Quarrans and Tertians, &c. Indeed we much fear that during the moneths of June, July, August, and September, it will be a sickly time; for the position of Heaven at Sol his entrance into Cancer is not comfortable. As unto the affairs of the world in general, or unto England, and some near Countries, we find rather a quiet time then much grumbling or repining amongst the Commonalty, but if any be, it rather denotes France then England: However, there seems a secret or private dislike in very many of the pretended Religions, or those we nominate so, concerning many Orders, Things, or Actions done or put forward to be done, or in posse to be executed. — Some scandal, or aspersion by malevolent tongues are cast upon the honour of a great Grandee of Europe: but Heavens seem to promise the English Sovereign Renown, Fame, and many Civilities or Courtships both in his own Dominions, and from Forreign Parts: Some people are like to be sensible of his Majesties frowns. Near this moneth they may see that he can be as well angry as merciful, if he be provoked: Plenty of Intelligence arrives unto his Majesty from several parts both of Europe & America seemingly pleasing: that the English add their parts to his Honour.

AUGUSTS Observations. 1661.

AN appearance of sending forth many ships to Sea unto severall parts of the world ; and the Venetian State made happy with some Naval Auxiliaries, or that Renowned State blessed with good success either by Land or Sea with their Forces employed against the Ottoman Family. Multitudes of Pyrates manifest themselves in the Levant Seas, and near the mouth of the Straits ; so that we may have but sorrowful or uncertain Intelligence from those parts about the middle of this Moneth.

The death or sickness of many aged men near this moneth occasioned from Fevers, Fluxes, Gripings in the Gutts, or Palpitation of the heart, God grant it be not pestilential in an high measure ; so that many people become mad, or distracted with the violence of the predominant distemper of this moneth and the subsequent.

Many Contradictory Councils now in agitation, and much treachery perceived in Officers belonging unto great Councils, Princes, and Potentates, their most secret Resolves betrayed unto their Enemies : Auti famas quid non possis !

The Austrian Family though much straitned, yet receiveth some victory by means of her Eminent Commanders, either in Hungaria, or those parts.

SEPTEMBERS Observations. 1662.

STill we fear both the vulgar man, Citizen, and Sgenerous Person will be molested with rotten Fevers, Fluxes, Small-pocks, Gonorrhœas (Anglice the French Pest) ; or that this Moneth will be something sickly ; for now is there another inconspicuous Solar Eclipse preceding the Sun his Ingress into the Autumnal Quarter.

The French Court and Kingdom much concerned in this Moneths Configurations ; wherein there seems much jollity, mirth and gladness, God grant it may continue.

Heavens intimate some more then ordinary Consult in hand, or a business of a weighty consideration now agitated betwixt some European Grandees : Some motion of Armies, or as if a Battle or an Encounter were near at hand : And the Italian Princes highly concerned to be wary in their Actions.

Aut Caesar aut nihil ; Some would inculcate the Spaniard to say or think so much at this time or near unto it ; we think he hath no such cause, yet assuredly about these times his Forces are active, and he in great hopes of some more than ordinary success.

But if the Stars fail us not, our English Charles the Second, King of Great Britain, hath many assured testimonies of the welfare of his Forces or their successes ; yet in some parts of the world he hath many brave Sou's his Subjects sick of Fevers and Fluxes.

OCTOBERS Observations. 1662.

Here is a Minor Conjunction of Jupiter and Mars in this Moneth, in the 19th degree of Scorpio. Hear the judgment of the Ancients concerning it. Conjunctio minor Jovis & Martis significat eventus qui sunt ex pluviis & nubibus, & corruptionem aeris, & significat guerras. The minor or lesser Conjunction of Jupiter and Mars doth signifie such Events as arise from rain and cloudy weather; as also a Corrupted Air, and Wars or Discord.—Much danger of losses at Sea by stormes, &c. Si prae fuerit fortuna significat fortunam; If a Fortune be strongest, the Conjunction prenotes good, if otherwise, ill.

In this Conjunction Mars hath predominancy, and Jupiter is depressed: Ergo, Mars his influence is strongest; apparebit natura illius qui fuerit fortior: we shall be made sensible of such evils as Mars is the Significator of; viz. evil airs, corrupted and unwholsome; Contentions, wars or discords, discords Ecclesiastical.—The Austrian Emperour highly concerned.

The Conjunction in a feminine sign denotes pestilential & mortalitates, pestilential diseases and mortalities in the feminine Creature, as well women as other Animals.

Evil News from Spain, moist Commodities putrified or corrupted; distastful Convocations or disturbed Councils, a serious pretending dislike of things Ecclesiastical. Strange lying stories of losses, crosses East-ward, and near the Straits.

NOVEMBERS Observations. 1662.

EX duobus infortunis fit fortunium, thus say some. A Conjunction of the two Infortunes becomes a Fortune. God grant it may be so.

The influence of this present Conjunction of Saturn and Mars stirs up Mankind unto great Achievement, rather by Policy, Treaties, Dissimulation, than by any just or legal warrantable means. Here may be some sudden fight, surprise of a Town, Cittadel or Castle, mutiny of Armed men for want of pay and convenient necessities: All these towards Flanders, Low-Countries, Turkie, Hungaria, &c. Religious Controversies in Agitation; several & various Councils about New or Old Leagues, New or Ancient Priviledges: Much agitation about a fishing Trade, about Sea-priviledges, Customs of Nations and people.

Some mens Honours Eclipsed, others advanced. The Church escandalized: Some reverend aged man either of Religion or the Long Robe in danger of death.

Europe full of Action, the Seas full of Shipping: Generally most Nations consulting of the next years Revolution, wherein great Actions are hoped to be determined or concluded rather in Peace than by open Hostility, though the face of Things looks sowlly at present.

Aspersive Libels dispersed against the Orthodox Ministers, who share much in reproaches; but towards the Moneths end they receive better encouragement.

Many worthy Personages in several parts of Europe employed in Treaties, Embassiges, in confirming Leagues; Great Conventions of Nobility and Gentry: Here is hoped a new face of Things is like to appear in most parts of the World, I do mean the European World.

Were all Europe of the Roman Catholick Judgment we should judge some general Council was at hand.

The Spanish Monarchy involved in most difficult and laborious affairs; full of trouble both in Council and Action.

East-ward from England a wary people plunged with care and many sad complaints, begin to be sensible, That King Charles the Merciful can be discomposed, if his Subjects are affronted. — Heavens bless him, his most just Designs, his high Conceptions, and give an happy Period unto some Actions considerable both in the West-Indies, East-Indies, Coasts of Africa, and all other parts where our Sovereign's people are planted, or drive a Trade:

From Spain, Italy, Turkie, Ligorn, and from all or most parts of the habitable Christian world arrives plenty of Intelligence, in general good for the English Nation. — However private Animosities, Robberies, and hard weather ends the year, not grateful to the common man.
